FROM GENERATION TO GENERATION

A History of Greensboro's Jewish Legacy

UNC Greensboro Museum Studies graduate student Kennedy Gray is curating a Community Voices Display for Jewish American Heritage Month at the Greensboro History Museum. The display will be open to the public from Mid-April through May 2026. This display will showcase memories and moments of Jewish community gatherings. Four categories of moments include: life cycle events, social gatherings, weekly services and education, and holidays. We are requesting the temporary loan of objects and documents from the community to support this display.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

Share a piece of your story that honors our community's history of coming together.

We are interested in, but not limited to:

- Clothing (including tallitot, kippot, and wedding dresses)
- Photographs (including family celebrations and gatherings, festivals, and community moments)
- Print Materials & Media (including cards, family letters, service pamphlets)
- Ceremonial Objects (including mezuzot, ketubot, and Shabbat Candlesticks)

If you are interested in taking part in this project and willing to loan an object or have a document scanned, email Kennedy Gray at kngray@uncg.edu or call Greensboro History Museum Public Programs Coordinator Sarah Anne Maske at 336-373-7560 by March 31.
